

Membership Contribution Guidelines and FAQs

Congregation Shir Libeynu is an inclusive and welcoming part-time community that strives to fully meet the needs of all our members. Our Pay What You Can donation model, first introduced three years ago, is intended to ensure that programming costs are fully supported, while remaining open to all who wish to join, regardless of means. We firmly believe in the idea of “from each according to their ability”, and ask you to consider the importance of the continued availability of this special Jewish space where everyone is truly welcome to come as you are, with all of your identities honoured.

Is there a minimum donation required?

To help determine your level of giving, the board has created giving guidelines. You are encouraged to view these amounts as the suggested minimum levels of contribution, and if you have the means, to give above those minimums in the true spirit of paying what you can.

The suggested minimums are per person and are set by the board during our budgeting process with the goal of having enough resources to meet our obligations and commitments to members and to the broader community.

How is the minimum calculated?

The minimum suggested membership donation is arrived at by dividing the operating budget of the synagogue by the number of current dues paying members.

For the coming year, that calculation comes to an actual cost of $800 per adult.

To allow those who can afford more than our suggested minimum to help those who cannot, we provide a sliding scale of suggested minimum contributions with descriptions of how those contributions will help us to maintain our community.

NEW THIS YEAR

To assist families, we have extended free membership to all children up to age 18, and we are asking for consideration of a minimum donation of $250 for people from 19-26 years of age.

Fine. But how much should I really give?

In these times of increasing costs we ask all members to do the very best you can. All contributions should be made on a per person basis. Despite rising costs, with the above noted exception, we have held our recommended minimums at last year's rate in order to make giving easier for you.

If you are unable to contribute at the higher end of the scale (see chart below), please help us meet rising costs if you can by adding at least 10% per person more than you contributed last year. If you don't remember how much you contributed last year, contact Amanda and she will look it up for you.

Payment

We encourage those who are able to pay in full when you complete your membership form.

If, however, you feel you will be able to give more by spreading your payments out over the year, or if you are struggling and paying over time will make it easier for you, please consider opting for the quarterly payment plan. If you require a different payment arrangement, please contact Amanda.

Of course, regardless of the amount contributed, all members have equal access to the Congregation Shir Libeynu member benefits listed above.
